Melodizing possibilities to help you get started

Using pitches of the left hand chord in your right hand melody always sounds good.

Moving by step from one pitch of the chord to another also results in a smooth melody. These non-chord notes are called PASSING TONES.

Another harmonious option is to step away from and then return to a pitch of the chord. These non-chord notes are called NEIGHBOR TONES.

Finally, end with a long note on a strong beat. Tonic sounds most conclusive and beat 1 is the strongest.
